

COVID 19 August Update

The COVID-19 pandemic has created a world full of uncertainties providing extraordinary circumstances for us all. Fullflow Group would like to assure our customers that we are endeavouring to mitigate the effect of virus upon our business by monitoring the situation very closely and taking a full range of precautionary measures in line with Government recommendations. Our existing business continuity plans have been reviewed and where necessary amended in order to support the continued delivery of products and services. As such Fullflow have and continue to provide for the needs of its clients.

Our implemented measures to support best hygiene practice and social distancing at work are under constant review. Whilst continuing to provide unrivalled first class services to our customers the wellbeing of all employees is paramount. In order to ensure that social distancing measures are maintained we are encouraging our staff to make use of communication technology rather than attending meetings in person.
